President's musings:

November..... This month always reminds me to take stock of what I have, need, and count my blessings. I am so thankful to be living in this beautiful state! The beauty of Colorado is not only scenic, but our way of life here encompasses so many facets; striving to balance growth while keeping our Colorado values and heritage. Being a native of Colorado seems to be a rarity now. We all must strive to have our pioneer heritage remembered and saved. I still remember the historic loss our city took when older homes and retail structures were torn down for new edifices during the 60's growth. For example in downtown alone, in the 60's, we had 7 movie theaters -most very grand and ornate (Center, Denham, Denver, Empress, Orpheum, Paramount, & Rialto. – and 1 opera house (Tabor). All but the Paramount have been lost. Many Capitol Hill mansions were demolished. I remember being in the Auraria neighborhood as a child. I remember lots of duplex houses next to St. Elizabeth's Church. Now we have recently been reminded, it's been 50 years since that was cleared to begin construction on the current educational complex that now is a that site!

While we need to accommodate growth, we need to balance this with preservation of our city and all its diverse populations. That is why TDC is more relevant today than ever before. My fear is we are returning to the 60's thought of "clear it out and mourn the loss later". Our history cannot be wiped out in the name of growth, but must be thoughtfully considered, and preserved for future Coloradans.
